

Using Study Circles to Address Neighborhood Issues and Revitalization Projects

A Neighborhood Study Circle . . .

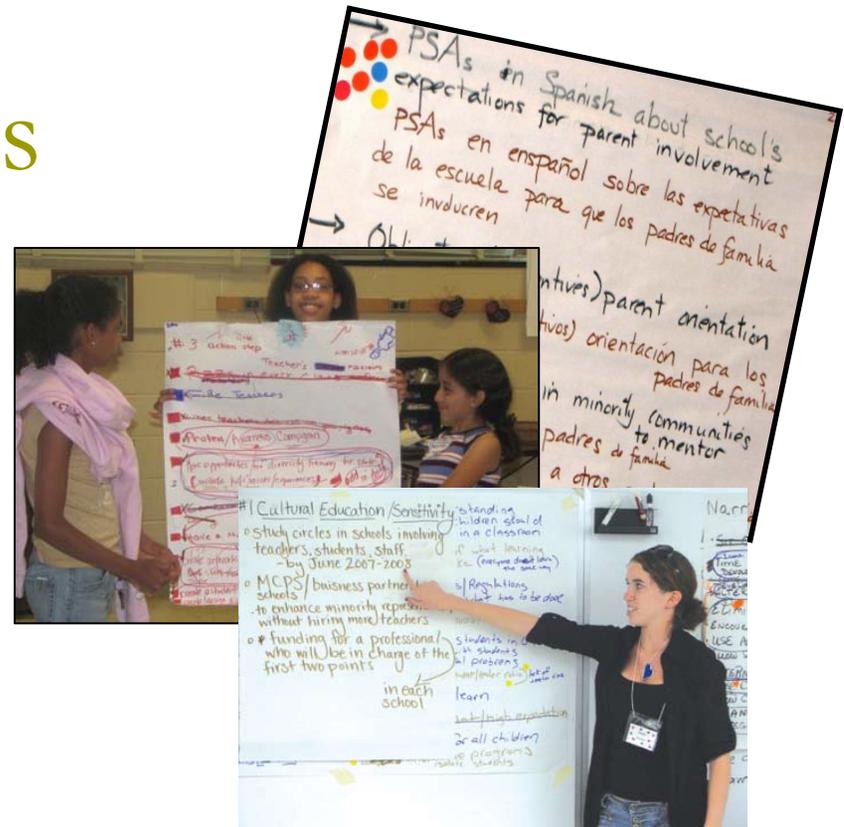

- ❑ Is a diverse group of about 15 participants who meet for respectful and productive conversations.
- ❑ Is led by trained facilitators who keep members safe and the dialogue on track.
- ❑ Begins with people getting to know one another, looks at a problem from many points of view, explores solutions, and develops ideas for action and change.
- ❑ Helps the neighborhood connect dialogue to action and change.

Sessions Build on Each Other

Expected Outcomes

- Awareness
- Relationships across groups
- Collective Action
- Neighborhood Change

Here's how it works

To get involved contact:

- Cindy Brookshire, Director
Prince William Study Circles 703-361-6941
- www.pwsc.org